

Before God

(In progress, London: Rowman & Littlefield)

Steven DeLay

An April Shower, William Turner

What is it to live in the presence of God, to recognize that our most intimate mode of existence is not one of being-in-the-world? In six phenomenological studies surmounting the division between philosophy and theology, this book takes up that question, exploring in turn our relation to others, the world, and ourselves.

Chapter One

The Interlacement of Self and God

Chapter Two

What is the Problem of Intersubjectivity?

Chapter Three

Making Peace

Chapter Four

Forgiveness

Chapter Five

A Sketch of Silence and Evil

Chapter Six

Metaphysics and Immortality

Chapter Seven

Nietzsche and the Genealogy of a Lie

Chapter Eight

The Light that Lights Every Man

And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to his purpose.

Romans 8:28
